“ When Andy lived in Alva, he and my husband, Marvin went fishing a lot. They always had a good time and were best friends. We&ve lost a great guy. My deepest sympathy to the family.

“ We ranch in the Chester area and back in the 60&s we always stopped on our way back to Enid to fill up at Andy&s Bouse Junction station. We were there many a late, hot Saturday summer afternoon, and it was always fun to get together and joke with Andy before heading out. That was the way life used to be in a different time, and I miss it. The old station is gone but his house is still there and serves as a field office for a disposal well that sits on the property. I drive by there a lot and I think of him every time I see it. Andy was a good guy and a credit to mankind.

“ Uncle Andy came to see us often in Taloga. We always had a good time when he came by. He was a man of integrity and honor. I always enjoyed going to family gatherings. Uncle Andy could always tell some good stories. He could also tell us about our families& past. What a legacy he has left behind.
