Bill was raised on the farm near Dacoma and graduated from Dacoma High School. Baseball was his passion and he played summer league baseball in Enid for George Failing. He attended Northwestern Oklahoma State College, earning a Bachelor's Degree in Education in 1962 and played baseball all four years. During the summers while in college, he played in a league in McPherson, Kansas, for Van Johnson. On March 21, 1958, he was united in marriage to Ja Deanna J. Smith at the Dacoma Church of God. He was a member of the Dacoma Church of God. Family was important to Bill, especially his grandsons, attending all of their sporting events and activities. He enjoyed hunting, golfing, and traveling.

Besides his parents, Wayne and Marie, he was preceded in death by his brother and his wife, Max and Marie Farris; his brother-in-law, Leroy Loges; and a infant grandson, Cody Don Wiebener.

Bill is survived by his wife of nearly 68 years, Ja Deanna Farris of Alva; his daughters, La Deanna "Dee" Wiebener and her husband, Jack, of Alva, and Pam Gale and her husband, Steve, of Alva; his brothers, Ernie Farris and his wife, Genevieve, of Alva, John Farris and his wife, Vicki of Missouri; his sister, Kay Loges of Alva; four grandsons, Taylor Wiebener and his wife, Natalie, of Kingston, Jeremy Wiebener and his wife, Mackenzie, of Alva, Mitchell Gale and his wife, Rayel, of Penhold, AB, Canada, and Tyson Gale and his wife, Gabby, of Union City, Tennessee; seven great grandchildren, Dakota, Kaya, Taylie, Nash, Giovanna, Truitt, and Carmella; other relatives and friends.

Bill loved God, his Family, Baseball, and Golf.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that memorial contributions be made through the funeral home in his memory to the NWOSU Ranger Baseball, Alva Golf and Country Club, or the Dacoma Church of God.
