“ I had not seen Bronson since he was a young child. His father, Kellee was like a brother to me. I was so sorry to hear of his passing. I pray for your entire family, LaDena. Joy Rutledge, Elk City, Oklahoma

“ I enjoyed visiting with Bronson in the library when he came to check-out a book-----I never knew what his next pursuit would be! He had eclectic tastes and a curious mind. He was always fun to visit with about his latest interest. It&s not often that a student such as Bronson comes along, and I mean that in the best possible way.

“ We mourn with the family at this loss. Only our Sovereign God can draw us closer to him with such sorrow. May He comfort those hurting, wrapping His loving arms around us. May the words to this Santus Real song help us find peace and comfort in our time of mourning. I send my love to all, you are in my prayers. Brenda (Blankenship) Eslinger

It's time for healing time to move on It's time to fix what's been broken too long Time make right what has been wrong It's time to find my way to where I belong There's a wave that's crashing over me And all I can do is surrender

Whatever You're doing inside of me It feels like chaos but somehow there's peace It's hard to surrender to what I can't see but I'm giving in to something Heavenly

Time for a milestone Time to begin again Reevaluate who I really am Am I doing everything to follow Your will Or just climbing aimlessly over these hills So show me what it is You want from me I give everything I surrender... To..

Time to face up Clean this old house Time to breathe in and let everything out That I've wanted to say for so many years Time to release all my held back tears

Whatever You're doing inside of me It feels like chaos but I believe You're up to something bigger than me Larger than life something Heavenly

Whatever You're doing inside of me It feels like chaos but now I can see This is something bigger than me Larger than life something Heavenly Something Heavenly

It's time to face up Clean this old house Time to breathe in and let everything out
