“ I enjoyed having her as an art teacher when growing up back in Highland and reconnecting as an adult as mentor. She will be greatly missed. One of my favorite things we did back in the day was making clay pots from whatever we had. That was actually quite fun (now thinking about it, our soil where I live, is pretty as sandy).

“ Ms. Joseph was such a character and a wonderful art teacher. She came to Highland and was my art teacher from early grade school through high school. I have a life-long love of art based on the foundations of art history and technique that I learned from her. My parents’ house is still full of projects that came from her classes (x3 for 3 kids)—Duane Hanson figures, clay pots, charcoals, watercolors, and paintings and drawings of every kind. Ms. Joseph nurtured a love of art and creativity in her students that lives on in our daily lives. We were lucky to have her. -Merideth Harness McEntire, San Antonio, TX
