“ My dad gave me some of the best gifts you could ask for in life. Today I want to share just a few of those gifts. My dad would wake me up on Saturday morning and take me fishing at Panhandle Lake in Louisburg, KS. I started out with a cane pole then on to rod and reel. This gave me patience. He went over any missed problems on school work. This gave me the understanding of the importance of education. He taught me how to ride a bike. Every time I fell off he made me get back on and try again. This gave me me the gift of persistence. To never give up until you've given it all you've got. These memories and so many more will be cherished forever.
