“ Butch and Cindy, I was completely shocked last night when my mom told me about Tina. She heard from it at Senior Citizens durring the noon hour and told me last night, 10-23-2012. I knew she had cancer because I called her at work around 6 months ago, but she said they got it all, she got to it in its early stages. What times we had when she was at Alva. I really got to enjoying her company and she was a smart girl. Its going to take me some time to get over this sad, sad news. Sincerely, Mark Dubben

“ "I weep with sorrow; encourage me by your word." Psalm 119:28
To Mr. and Mrs. Percival, family and friends, we are so sorry to hear of the loss of such a great woman of God. Tina was such a bright star in my son&s life at such an early age. Tina was just like another mom to my Little Cameron from the beginning. She helped to teach him all the right things at an early age like being a kind hearted person and a loving person. Although we&ve been away from Oklahoma for many years, there were many visits that we would stop by Wal-Mart or by her home to see her. Although we were not aware of her stuggles with her illness, Little Cameron has been honoring all Breast Cancer heros by wearing pink during his football games all month and will continue to do so. Cameron&s touchdown last night, October 15th, will be forever dedicated to Tina Percival. This was a hard thing to break to him last night because Tina is the first person he&s lost in his 16 years, besides his grandmother when he was a year old.
I ask that God Bless each and every one of you and know that your daughter&s light will continue to shine on through our son, Cameron Deshawn Emery. We will continue to pray for each and every one of you.

I am so glad Jan had time to spend with her in hospice. Also so nice to know that we will take care of her dog Bobo, a request from Tina. He will have a great home. “ Our sincere sympathy to Tina&s family. Even tho& our son&s were adults, they were still our babies, when they were taken from us. We may question "why", but try to find comfort in the love bestowed upon us, which only our Lord can provide. Praying each of you cherish special memories in the days ahead, and will allow the love of friends and family to surround you.

“ I am sorry for your loss and I send my sincere condolences to the family and friends. When the enemy death strikes our grief can be great. It is at times like this that we need comfort and support whether we are acquainted or not. May you find comfort in Almighty God promise of the resurrection. (Acts 24:15). All of God&s many promises will come true, for it is impossible for God to lie. (Hebrews 6:18). Respectfully, “ Butch and Cindy Our hearts go out to you over the loss of Tina. The road ahead may look as though the sun will never shine on it again, but the way will slowly get better. Just take it a day at a time. We focused on the wonderful blessing that God had given us in the short life of our son. Even though we would have kept him here with us longer, God had other ideas. Don't put on a happy face because you think it's expected. Grief denied is grief unhealed. Everyone grieves differently. I remember a friend telling me "Don't let anyone tell you how to grieve. Do so in your own way." Our thoughts and prayers go out to you at this time and in the future. May God wrap you in the comfort of his arms. Call if you need to talk. You loving friend, Carolyn.

“ Cindy and Family, I am so sorry to hear of your loss. I want to let you know that you are in my prayers. The following is a poem that I carry with me every day a good friend wrote before his trip to heaven. "SHORT LIFE" I find life amazing, the innocence of it all, dare we treat it harshly, lest we cause it to fall. Time is of the moment, let up take it in hand, turn that time into stone, and forever it shall stand. Dwell not on the problems, but cherish all the glee, enjoy the daily offerings, and set your spirit free. Be reverent of the law, respect the fellow man, simply enjoy the world, and treasure it all you can. Life is a fleeting moment, in a continuance of time, and how quickly it passes, is a concept so benign. written by Ken Case in 1997. Sending prayers your way.
